

ISLAND IDYLL

Waterfront home on Point Manalapan offers serene views. Home & Loggia, B1

REVELATIONS

'Altered States' exhibit a mind-opener. Critics' Picks, B6

Palm Beach Daily News

THE SHINY SHEET®

Established 1897

PalmBeachDailyNews.com

FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 2011

14 Pages 50 cents

Chamber salutes Centennial work

OnBlonde Pet Spa & Boutique, Ta-boó, Colony, Bill Bone, 'Daily News' honored; Neiman Marcus scholarships go to two college-bound seniors.

By ROBERT JANJIGIAN

Daily News Fashion Editor

Thursday's Chamber of Commerce breakfast at The Breakers put the spotlight on individuals and businesses who have contributed significantly to the town during its Centennial season.

Awards were handed out during the morning session, the final monthly meeting of the season, to the slate of five winners selected by the chamber's nominating committee. In addition, Neiman Marcus presented Awards of Excellence scholarships to two graduating high school seniors headed to college next fall.

OnBlonde Pet Spa & Boutique was honored as the new business of the year. Michael Martin, co-owner of the South County Road enterprise, open since April 2010, accepted the award and expressed his gratitude to the community for its support.

The Palm Beach Daily News received the Advertising Creativity award, which recognized the newspaper's editorial and advertising efforts that have broadened awareness and appeal of the town, especially with regard to the Centennial celebration. Joyce Reingold, editor and publisher, thanked the chamber for the award.

The Worth Avenue restaurant and bar Ta-boó was lauded as the business that has the most local flavor in town as well as the original source of the Bloody Mary. Co-owner Franklyn deMarco acknowledged his partner Nancy Sharigan, in accepting the award for the business they've operated for the past 20 years.

The Colony was presented with the Quintessentially Palm Beach award. Roger Everingham, general manager of the boutique hotel, recognized his team of managers for their efforts.